Notes:

¹ All filenames end with .avi. If “-tl-“ is within the filename, it designates a time-lapse or stop footage sequence along with the visual speed. (slow, med, fast, vfast etc...) – if the filename ends with b, p, t it simply means you have 3 versions of the clip, bottom frame first, progressive, top frame first. Lightning happens so fast that in some cases anyone of these renderings may be better or best. (You decide.) We give them to you where the sequence needed it.

² The play length is to the nearest second. Some clips may be a few frames longer or a few frames shorter. Of course in “lightning” terms, 1 second is a life time!

All clips on this disk are NTSC 720x480, designated as 720x480(N) and are at 29.97 frames per second.

All footage was recorded on a Sony 3CCD TRV-950 MiniDV camera. These files were rendered using Magix Edit Pro V12 and Sony Vegas Pro V8.

Some ideas for using cloud footage:

Here are just a few ideas and some possibilities of what to do with such footage:

- Create loops for backgrounds (“green screen” (a.k.a. chroma-key) work or background work –
- Combine several clips for dramatic effect on your next indie. (Horror, drama, sci-fi, they all can use a grey cloud or two.)
- Create music video’s using just such sequences. (see examples at: <http://www.youtube.com/vadervideo>)
- Use them in your multimedia presentations on the web, or in slide presentations for special impact.

To our knowledge, there has never been such a variety in a cloud collection of stock footage available to date (and at this price!). It is our intent to be able to offer the largest variety possible, for any task or requirement. We hope we succeeded and that you will without a doubt agree.
