	Filename <sup>1</sup>	Short	Size	Fps	Length <sup>2</sup>
1-33	close-1thru 6	Too close for comfort in some cases. Several spectacular and motion shots. All shots were from chasing one storm heading from east to west – a wide variety of lightning bolts, sheet lightning and flashes.	720x480 (N)	29.97	3s – 9s segment lengths (use your explorer to determine.)
34-37	dl-082407-6 thru 9	Day lightning	720x480 (N)	29.97	1s - 5s

Notes:

<sup>1</sup> All filenames end with .avi. If “-tl-“ is within the filename, it designates a time-lapse sequence along with the visual speed. (slow, med, fast, vfast etc...) – if the filename ends with b, p, t it simply means you have 3 versions of the clip, bottom frame first, progressive, top frame first. Lightning happens so fast that in some cases anyone of these renderings may be better or best. (You decide.) We give them to you where the sequence needed it.

<sup>2</sup> The play length is to the nearest second. Some clips may be several frames longer or several frames shorter. Of course in “lightning” terms, 1 second is a life time!

All clips on this disk are NTSC 720x480, designated as 720x480(N) and are at 29.97 frames per second.

Some special notes about lighting footage:

As one can immediately summarize, lightning footage usually is not very long as far as clip length goes. Keeping in mind that each second is in essence 30 stills, this would be considered a lifetime for lightning! Typically lightning lasts only a few frames, or a fraction of a second.

Here are just a few hints and some possibilities and things to do with such footage:

- create loops for backgrounds (green screen work or background work – ever watch Jim Cramer’s Mad Money? He has a “Lightning Round” with such footage running for effect.)
- analyze how lightning works frame by frame (educational purposes - See DISK_3/StillShots for several such still shots taken from several of these clips.)
- combine several clips for dramatic effect on your next indie. (Horror, drama, sci-fi, they all can use a good bolt or two.)
- Create music video’s using just such sequences. (see examples at: <http://www.youtube.com/vadervideo>)
- Use them in you multimedia presentations for the web for that special impact.

VaderVideo Shotlist –Weather and Sky– Lightning - Vol 2

To our knowledge, there has never been such a large collection of lightning stock footage available to date (and at this price!). It is our intent to be able to offer the largest variety possible, for any task or requirement. We hope we succeeded and that you will without a doubt agree.
