Notes:

<sup>1</sup> All filenames end with .avi. If “-tl-“ is within the filename, it designates a time-lapse sequence along with the visual speed. (slow, med, fast, vfast etc...) – if the filename ends with b, p, t it simply means you have 3 versions of the clip, bottom frame first, progressive, top frame first. Lightning happens so fast that in some cases anyone of these renderings may be better or best. (You decide.) We give them to you where the sequence needed it.

<sup>2</sup> The play length is to the nearest second. Some clips may be several frames longer or several frames shorter. Of course in “lightning” terms, 1 second is a life time!

All clips on this disk are NTSC 720x480, designated as 720x480(N) and are at 29.97 frames per second.

Some special notes about lighting footage and DISK 3 Specifics:

As one can immediately summarize, lightning footage usually is not very long as far as clip length goes. Keeping in mind that each second is in essence 30 stills, this would be considered a lifetime for lightning! Typically lightning lasts only a few frames, or a fraction of a second.

Here are just a few hints and some possibilities and things to do with such footage:

- create loops for backgrounds (green screen work or background work – ever watch Jim Cramer’s Mad Money? He has a “Lightning Round” with such footage running for effect.)
- analyze how lightning works frame by frame (educational purposes - See DISK_3/StillShots for several such still shots taken from several of these clips.)
- combine several clips for dramatic effect on your next indie. (Horror, drama, sci-fi, they all can use a good bolt or two.)
- Create music video’s using just such sequences. (see examples at: <http://www.youtube.com/vadervideo>)
- Use them in you multimedia presentations for the web for that special impact.

DISK 3 Specifics:

On this disk you will find several bonus items:

- Special sequences under “Long Bonus Clips”. Splice them all together for a really long clip, then, loop the sequence for “real time” green screen insert backgrounds. (just a suggestion)
- A tool kit to make your own sequences using the “Filler Clips” along with other clips from the numbered sequences. Try it, it will all make sense when you see the footage.
- A subdirectory named “AudioTrax” – some real thunder sounds.
- A subdirectory named “Special Sequences” – a few of our favorite lighting strikes along with time lapse versions of the same.
- A subdirectory named “StillShots” – individual frame shots of several of the sequences and bolts you see in this collection, with many of them in sequence so you can actually see the bolt being built up and taken down again. 266 shots or frames of beauty! (Some from the footage of Disk 4 – The Mega Lightning Assembly Kit)

VaderVideo Shotlist –Weather and Sky– Lightning - Vol 3

To our knowledge, there has never been such a large collection of lightning stock footage available to date (and at this price!). It is our intent to be able to offer the largest variety possible, for any task or requirement. We hope we succeeded and that you will without a doubt agree.
